A big congratulations is in order for the phenomenal women being celebrated today, including the prestigious trio of honorary chairwomen. We would be remiss if we didn't extend our deepest gratitude to the dynamic trio of event co-chairs and the tireless organizing committee. Your ceaseless efforts have been instrumental in making this event a resounding success. The level of dedication, selflessness, and support you've shown towards this noble cause is truly awe-inspiring. Take a bow – you've earned it!

But the applause doesn't stop there. Kudos to the Israel Cancer Research Fund for their unwavering commitment to the cause. Your relentless pursuit of funds for critical cancer research is making a world of difference. With your hard work, you're paving the way for trailblazing discoveries that are not just saving lives, but also improving the quality of life for those battling this ruthless disease. Your vision and firm belief that we will one day conquer Cancer is truly commendable.

So here's to you, the game-changers, the life-savers, and the relentless fighters. You give us hope that a cancer-free world is not just a dream, but a future we're steadily marching towards.
